A Chicago bank that employs 110 women has issued an order that none of its female employees be allowed to marry without giving up their positions in the bank.

Mrs. Hazel Phipps, 17, widow of Frank Phipps, who died suddenly two months ago, was married at Columbus, Ind., to her father-in-law, John Phipps, aged 65.

Attorney General Garnett has prepared an opinion holding that the Frost bill providing that county clerks prepare tax lists, is not effective this year, as the lists already have been prepared.

By a fixed vote of four to two the house election committee today decided to unseat Representative Chas. P. Bowman, Republican, of the Eleventh Pennsylvania district, because of gross fraud in his election.

A Frankfort dispatch to the Cincinnati Enquirer says that Gov. McCreary and Congressman A. O. Stanley will be among the Democratic entries in the primary in the race for United States Senator.

The Warren County Juvenile Court, which has been under process of organization by Judge Denhardt for some time, has been fully established, and the court is now ready to put in force the workings of a full fledged Juvenile Court.

A Frenchman in Paris finds he cannot marry because the original birth register recorded him as a "female" and he is seeking to marry a woman. He is already a widower, having married once where the registry record was not required. He will have to leave France to wed, such is the red tape in that country.

At Macon, Ga., a "Dr. Butts" named G. F. Tyndal shot and killed his sister-in-law's beau, G. H. Taylor, when he caught the couple hugging and kissing. The heart-broken girl testified that the young man's caresses were not resisted, as they were to have been married the next day. The marriage license was found in Taylor's pocket.

The death of Senator Bob Taylor will cause universal sorrow throughout the whole South. He was easily the best loved of all public men in the South and it has also been stated that he was the most popular member of the United States Senate. Light-hearted, joyous and kind in all his impulses, there is no man living to take his place in many respects. His loss to the country is a public calamity.

Weather Clerk's Joke.

Those who expected the balmy spring weather of Saturday and Sunday to continue yesterday were grievously fooled. The day was ushered in with the first April showers of the season.

Mrs. Lottie Stith Wallace.

Mrs. T. S. Wallace, formerly Miss Lottie Stith, died at her home in Midland, Texas, Saturday morning at six o'clock, from the results of an operation for appendicitis. She was a daughter of the late J. W. Stith, who was formerly a resident of this county, and a niece of Councilman W. A. P'Pool of this city and J. L. P'Pool, of the county. She leaves two brothers and two sisters, Mr. P. M. Reese, (half-brother) of this county; J. Orie Stith, of Henderson; Mrs. Elbert Turner, of this city and Mrs. Fred Ward, of this county. She leaves many friends who mourn her death. Interment was at Midland.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one threadbare disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have no much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

VENERABLE WOMAN

Prostrated With a Fatal Stroke of Paralysis.

Mrs. Elizabeth Hanbery, widow of the late J. W. Hanbery, was stricken with paralysis Sunday at the home of her son in law, Mr. J. H. Dillman, on Route 2, near Casky, and her condition is critical. Her entire left side is involved and her vocal organs are partially affected. Mrs. Hanbery is 85 years old and owing to her extreme age no hope is entertained for her recovery. She is a member of South Union Baptist church and a woman of the noblest christian character. She has eight children, five sons and three daughters.

Lynched Two.

Blacksburg, S. C., March 29.—Joe Brinson and Frank Whisonant, negroes, about thirty years old, were lynched by a small mob, who broke down the jail door after all policemen on duty had retired for the night. The negroes were taken to a backsmith shop and hanged from the rafter.

The negroes, it was alleged, had taken a respectable white man to a deserted spot in a cemetery and made him drink a pint of whisky, after which they forced him to an unmentionable action.

30 Not Too Old.

The School Board of Switzerland has made an order stopping women teachers from teaching in the public schools when they reach the age of 30 years. Many young women who admit that they are 30 have raised a great protest and in a test case the general council has decided in favor of the teachers.

The verdict will completely change the existing regulations made by the scholastic commission. The "too old at thirty" rule can not now exist for teachers in any part of Switzerland.

NEWSPAPER THE BEST.

"In planning any systematic advertising campaign one of the first steps is a selection of the best medium, which, naturally, is the one reaching the greatest number and most desirable class of people at the least proportionate cost. This requirement is fully met by the newspaper, which affords any concern dealing directly with the people the quickest and proportionately a very cheap method of getting in touch with the greatest number."—R. F. Adams.

EITHER WOULD SUIT.

The condemned man was asked if there was anything he desired. He brightened up. "Why, yes," he replied, "I'd like to have capital punishment abolished."

They told him this was impossible. "Then," he cheerfully added, "I have the recall!"

Value of Words.

Words are wise men's counters—they do not reckon by them; but they are the money of fools.—Thomas Hobbes.

"Just a countryman—that's all," is the way the grower of this remarkable ear of corn, Mr. Fred C. Palin, styles himself. Though he is admitted to be one of the leading corn experts in the country—one whose services are greatly in demand as a judge of corn exhibits, Mr. Palin asks for no greater honor or distinction than to be known as a plain Hoosier farmer, and while he openly professes a reasonable pride in the achievement of growing the famous ear of corn which was adjudged the most perfect ever grown, it is without a shadow of ostentation.

The World's Greatest Ear of Corn

VARIETY—Palin's Corn Flake Yellow. (Named after winning the W. K. Kellogg $1,000 Trophy.)

A HYBRID—The seventh year production.

PARENT PLANTS Male—Reid's Yellow Dent Female—Alexander's Gold Standard.

DIMENSIONS—Length, 10 1-8 inches. Circumference, 7 3-4 inches. Number of rows, 20. Length of kernels, 3-4 of an inch. Width of kernels, about 3-8 of an inch. Thickness of kernels, 1 6 of an inch. Arrangement, very uniform, kernels running in straight rows the entire length well to the ends of the ear, tip being well covered with dented grains. Weight, 20 ounces. Estimated proportions—corn, 92 per cent; cob, 8 per cent.

The champion ear of corn was not an accident. There can be no greater lesson in the value of careful study and painstaking selection of seed and breeding than the experience of this same Palin. The farmer who thinks he stands a chance to go into his corn field and by a piece of luck pick out an ear which Nature has fashioned even more perfectly and with it wrest the honors from this Indiana man, cannot do better to disabuse his mind of this fallacious notion than to read the story of Palin and his champion ear.

FRED C. PALIN.

In the first place, Palin knows corn. If there were no more proof of this fact than the bare story of the development and discovery of the champion ear, it would be enough. And in proof of this fact, here is the story as he told it himself:

"It was in November, 1910, and we were just harvesting our crop. The weather had been good, but we were a little late with the harvest. The men were going through the fields with the wagon in the usual way gathering the corn, and the harvest was a promising one.

"We have a sort of corn show at my farm all the time, and there is always an award for exceptionally good ears of corn—ears sufficiently true to type to permit of their being exhibited. There is a small box on every corn wagon in which the most perfect ears are thrown. These, when properly selected, constitute the seed corn, and among these more perfect ears we occasionally find an ear that we are willing to exhibit in that we are willing to exhibit in a contest.

"On the day the champion ear was found, I was at the house and at dinner time one of the men brought it in and laid it, with a number of other ears, upon the window sill in the well room for me to take and put away in the seed house.

"Well," I said, 'do you think you've got a good ear there?'

"It looks to me like a good ear," he said, 'What do you think of it?'

"I picked it up and looked it over. 'Well,' I said finally, 'I think it is the most perfect ear of corn I ever saw. It's good enough to win the W. K. Kellogg $1,000 trophy this year at Omaha.'

"And I was confident the moment I saw it, and looked it over, that I held the trophy winner in my hand. So much so that when I left for Omaha to exhibit the ear, I took it

Rheumatic Pains quickly relieved

Sloan's Liniment is good for pain of any sort. It penetrates, without rubbing, through the muscular tissue right to the bone—relieves the congestion and gives permanent as well as temporary relief.

Here's Proof.

A. W. LAY of Lafayette, Ala., writes:—"I had rheumatism for five years. I tried doctors and several different remedies but they did not help me. I obtained a bottle of Sloan's Liniment which did me so much good that I would not do without it for anything."

THOMAS L. RICE of Easton, Pa., writes:—"I have used Sloan's Liniment and find it first-class for rheumatic pains."

Mr. G. G. JONES of Baldwin, L.I., writes:—"I have found Sloan's Liniment par excellence. I have used it for broken sinews above the knee cap caused by a fall, and to my great satisfaction I was able to resume my duties in less than three weeks after the accident."

SLOAN'S LINIMENT

is an excellent remedy for sprains, bruises, sore throat, asthma. No rubbing necessary—you can apply with a brush.

1910 at Columbus, Ohio, by R. A. James, of Charleston, Ill., with a magnificent ear of Reid's Yellow Dent, but not so perfect an ear as that which originally won the trophy and which has become known as "the best ear of corn ever grown."

South Carolina has appropriated $40,000 for the expenses of the exposition and the prospect is that Dixie will "do herself proud" in an effort to make this exposition the greatest of its kind ever held.

Sentenced To Chair.

Paducah, Ky., March 31.—Probably a double electrocution will take place at the Eddyville penitentiary on April 19. Willard Richardson, who killed John Violett, in Carlisle county, a few days ago, is sentenced to die on this date. The other is Deputy Sheriff Ellis, of Burnside, Ky., who killed a magistrate and another court official as the result of an argument over a local option election. In all, there are seven to die in the electric chair in April. The others are: Charles and James Smith, negroes, who killed a white man and then skinned him to hide his identity, from Mason county; Cal Miracle, of Bell county, who killed his wife and another man; Ewing Bowling, of Breathitt county, who had killed a white man and a negro woman during a fit of anger; John Bowman, of Lebanon, who, with another, killed their joint paramour. Some of these cases have been appealed.
